School of Criminology and Criminal Justice

Change Program

CRM335 Criminal Typologies - CRM 633 Criminal Typologies was recently submitted as a proposed elective for Graduate Students in our Master of Science In Criminology Program as well as other Graduate students who are interested in the course content. We want to ensure that students who take CRM 335 Criminal Typologies as an undergraduate, are aware that they cannot receive credit for taking CRM 633 Criminal Typologies as graduate students.

History

Change Program

Ancient Worlds-Undergraduate Certificate - We propose adding courses that can count toward the electives requirement for the minor. These are courses that have been renumbered since the original certificate proposal (ANT 347, previously a variable content 397), were developed and taught while the original proposal was working its way through the curricular review process (HST 569; note, this is not a new course at this time), or were accidentally omitted from the original proposal (LLT 325 and 326).

Asian Studies - The catalog description for the Asian Studies Minor needs to be updated to reflect current course offerings and minor adjustments to requirements for completion of the minor.

New Program Proposal

African & African American Studies UGCT – Undergraduate Certificate - Students who pursue the Undergraduate Certificate in African & African American Studies will become knowledgeable about the histories, societies, and cultures of Africa and the African diaspora, including Black America, and about related issues of diversity and social justice. The Certificate will be an excellent complement to all majors (for example, programs in education, social work, health care, business, and the arts, humanities, and social sciences), and a background in African & African American Studies is an asset in many career fields. <https://gapp.missouristate.edu/Student/ccr/createProgramProposal/35701-Approved>.
